

Wayne Health Community Support Resources

At Wayne Health, patients receive care from primary and specialty-care physicians committed to groundbreaking biomedical research and educating the next generation of physicians and advanced practice providers. We understand that whole-person health and well-being goes beyond traditional medical care. Wayne Health and our community partners have researched the following resources and support services to ensure our patients have easy access to vital information.

In this section you'll find links to information available to you and your family on a variety of topics. If you have any questions regarding the information, please reach out to us (link to contact us page).
